

CONTENTS

CHAPTER 1

STATEMENT OF THE PROBLEM, AIM AND PLAN OF STUDY

1. INTRODUCTORY ORIENTATION
 2. STATEMENT OF THE PROBLEM
 - 2.1 Review of the current view of learning difficulties
 - 2.2 Review of contemporary pedagogical thought on learning difficulties
 - 2.2.1 The role of the psychopedagogical
 - 2.2.2 The role of the didactic pedagogical
 - 2.3 The rise of a categorical pedagogical structure
 - 2.3.1 The fundamental pedagogical
 - 2.3.2 The didactic pedagogical
 - 2.3.3 The psychopedagogical
 - 2.3.4 Synthesis
 - 2.4 The problem of the disharmonious teaching situation
 - 2.4.1 The harmonious lesson situation
 - 2.4.1.1 Teaching-contents-learning
 - 2.4.1.2 Learning aim and teaching aim
 - 2.4.2 Synthesis
 - 2.4.3 The disharmonious lesson situation
 3. METHODOLOGICAL CONSIDERATIONS
 - 3.1 Introduction
 - 3.2 Perspective
 - 3.3 Part-perspective
 - 3.4 Collective perspective
 - 3.5 Orthopedagogics (respectively orthodidactics) as an independent part-perspective of pedagogics
 - 3.5.1 Orthopedagogics
 - 3.5.2 Orthodidactics
 4. SUMMARY
 5. THE AIM OF THE INVESTIGATION
 6. PROGRESSIVE VIEW OF THE PROBLEM
- REFERENCES

CHAPTER 2

CONSTITUENTS OF A DISHARMONIOUS TEACHING SITUATION

1. INTRODUCTION: THE PROBLEMATIC EDUCATIVE SITUATION
2. THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN A PROBLEMATIC EDUCATIVE SITUATION AND A DISHARMONIOUS TEACHING EVENT
3. A SEARCH FOR CONSTITUENTS OF A DISHARMONIOUS TEACHING SITUATION
 - 3.1 The neurologically handicapped child
 - 3.1.1 Behaviors that influence the learning of the neurologically handicapped child
 - 3.1.1.1 Hyperkinesis or hyperactivity
 - 3.1.1.2 Attention disturbances
 - 3.1.1.3 Disturbed perceiving
 - a) Dissociation
 - b) Figure-ground disturbance
 - c) Perseveration
 - 3.1.2 Corporeality and learning
 - 3.1.3 The learning world of the neurologically handicapped child
 - 3.1.3.1 The accompanying modes of learning
 - a) Sensing
 - b) Attending
 - 3.1.3.2 The gnostic-cognitive modes of learning
 - 3.1.4 The neurologically handicapped child in a disharmonious teaching situation
 - 3.2 The affectively disturbed child
 - 3.2.1 Introduction
 - 3.2.2 The connection between learning and affect
 - 3.2.3 The learning world of the affectively disturbed child
 - 3.2.4 The affectively disturbed child in a disharmonious teaching situation
 - 3.3 The mentally handicapped child
 - 3.3.1 Introduction
 - 3.3.2 The learning world of the mentally handicapped child
 - 3.3.3 The mentally handicapped child in a disharmonious teaching situation

4. CONSTITUENTS OF A DISHARMONIOUS TEACHING SITUATION
 - 4.1 Disharmonious pedagogic relationships
 - 4.2 Affective distress
 - 4.3 Experience of being different
 - 4.4 Inadequate realization of cognitive potentialities
 - 4.5 Deficient learning results
 - 4.6 Incorrectly anticipated didactic lesson designs
5. SYNTHESIS

REFERENCES

CHAPTER 3

SOME CONSIDERATIONS ABOUT DESIGNING AN ORTHODIDACTIC LESSON

1. SUBJECT DIDACTICS AND ORTHODIDACTICS
2. THE TEACHING AIM IN AN ORTHODIDACTIC LESSON
 - 2.1 General educative aims
 - 2.2 The orthodidactic teaching aim
 - 2.2.1 Orthodidactic reduction of contents
 - 2.2.2 Orthodidactic statement of the [lesson] problem
 - 2.2.3 Orthodidactic ordering of the learning material
 - 2.2.4 Orthodidactic lesson form
 - 2.2.5 Orthodidactic modalities
 - 2.2.6 Orthodidactic lesson sequence/course
 - 2.2.6.1 Content as aim and content as means
 - 2.2.6.2 Functional possibilities in an orthodidactic lesson situation
3. SYNTHESIS

REFERENCES

CHAPTER 4

THE INTERPRETIVE POSSIBILITIES OF ORTHOPEdagogic-ORTHODIDACTIC MEDIA

1. INTRODUCTION
2. THE INTERPRETIVE POSSIBILITIES OF ORTHOPEdagogic-

- ORTHODIDACTIC MEDIA
- 2.1 The historicity conversation
 - 2.1.1 The state of the child's physical development
 - 2.1.2 The level of psychic life actualization
- 2.2 Observation media
- 2.3 Intelligence medium
 - 2.3.1 The verbal items
 - 2.3.1.1 Vocabulary
 - 2.3.1.2 Comprehension
 - 2.3.1.3 Verbal reasoning
 - 2.3.1.4 Problems
 - 2.3.1.5 Memory
 - 2.3.2 The Non-verbal items
 - 2.3.2.1 Pattern completion
 - 2.3.2.2 Block design
 - 2.3.2.3 Absurdities
 - 2.3.2.4 The formboard
- 2.4 Projective and expressive media
 - 2.4.1 The Rorschach inkblot medium
 - 2.4.1.1 The pathic-affective structure
 - 2.4.1.2 The gnostic-cognitive structure
 - 2.4.2 Man-, tree- and house-drawing
 - 2.4.3 The Wartegg drawing medium
 - 2.4.4 Thematic projective media
- 2.5 Language media
 - 2.5.1 The conversation
 - 2.5.2 Reading and spelling
 - 2.5.3 Dictation
 - 2.5.4 Transcription
 - 2.5.5 Comprehension tests
 - 2.5.6 The composition
- 2.6 Media for evaluating specific ways of actualizing the psychic life
 - 2.6.1 Sensory-motor
 - 2.6.2 Visual perception
 - 2.6.3 Auditory perception
- 2.7 Media attuned to the curriculum contents
- 3. SYNTHESIS

REFERENCES

CHAPTER 5

AN EXAMPLE OF A SITUATION-ANALYSIS OF A CHILD WITH LEARNING DIFFICULTIES AND THE RESULTING DESIGN OF AN ORTHODIDACTIC PROGRAM OF ASSISTANCE

1. INTRODUCTION
2. THE POSSIBILITY OF AN ORTHODIDACTIC LESSON MODEL
3. AN EXAMPLE OF AN ORTHODIDACTIC PROGRAM OF ASSISTANCE
 - 3.1 An image resulting from a learning situation-analysis/orthodidactic diagnostic
 - 3.1.1 Identifying data
 - 3.1.2 Statement of the problem
 - 3.1.3 Summarized person image
 - 3.1.3.1 Historicity
 - 3.1.3.2 Actualizing psychic learning
 - a) Intellectual ability
 - b) Psychic life structures
 - (i) Intentionality structure
 - (ii) Gnostic-cognitive structure
 - (iii) Pathic-affective structure
 - (iv) Normative-meaning giving structure
 - 3.1.3.3 The disharmonious teaching event
 - a) The mother
 - b) The father
 - c) Disharmonious educative moments in terms of the fundamental [pedagogic] relationship structures
 - (i) Disharmonious relationship of trust
 - (ii) Disharmonious relationship of understanding
 - (iii) Disharmonious relationship of authority
 - 3.1.3.4 Learning outcome
 - a) Reading- and spelling-image
 - b) Arithmetic-image
 - 3.1.3.5 Synthesis
 - 3.2 Providing orthodidactic assistance
 - 3.2.1 Reduction of learning outcomes via the actualization of learning

- 3.2.2 Reduction of the actualization of learning in terms of adequately and inadequately actualized modes of learning
- 3.2.3 The program of providing orthodidactic assistance
 - 3.2.3.1 First strategy: Pedotherapy
 - a) Objective
 - b) Aims
 - c) Form
 - d) Function of the orthodidactician
 - e) Function of the child
 - 3.2.3.2 Second strategy: Preparing the child for learning
 - a) Objective
 - b) Aims
 - 3.2.3.3 Third strategy: Corrective teaching
 - a) Introduction
 - b) Corrective teaching
- 3.2.4 Example of designing an orthodidactic lesson
 - 3.2.4.1 Reducing the learning material
 - 3.2.4.2 The teaching aim
 - a) The lesson aim
 - b) The learning aim
 - 3.2.4.3 Stating the problem
 - a) Problem formulation
 - b) Problem solution
 - 3.2.4.4 Planning the form of the lesson
 - a) Choice of ground forms
 - b) Methodological principle
 - c) Principles of ordering the learning material
 - d) Methods of unlocking (presenting)
 - e) Orthodidactic modalities
 - 3.2.4.5 The course/sequence of the lesson
 - a) Actualizing foreknowledge and stating the problem
 - (i) Enlivening the lesson
 - (ii) Actualizing foreknowledge
 - b) Exposition
 - c) Actualizing the lesson contents
 - d) Functionalizing

3.3 Synthesis

REFERENCES

CHAPTER 6

SYNTHESIS, CONCLUSION AND RECOMMENDATIONS

1. INTRODUCTION

2. CHAPTER ONE

2.1 Aim of the investigation

2.2 Methodological considerations

2.3 Conclusions and findings

3. CHAPTER TWO

3.1 Aim and synthesis

3.2 Conclusions and findings

4. CHAPTER THREE

4.1 Aim and synthesis

4.2 Conclusions and findings

5. CHAPTER FOUR

5.1 Aim and synthesis

5.2 Conclusions and findings

6. CHAPTER FIVE

6.1 Aim and synthesis

6.2 Conclusions and findings

7. RECOMMENDATIONS

7.1 Recommendations regarding orthodidactic diagnosis

7.2 Recommendations regarding orthodidactic assistance

7.3 Recommendations regarding [orthodidactic] training

BIBLIOGRAPHY

SUMMARY