

CONTENT

WHO IS THE CHILD WITH SPECIFIC LEARNING DISABILITIES

P. A. van Niekerk

1. Introduction
2. The connection between specific learning problems and neurological dysfunctions
3. Handicaps in contrast to disabilities
4. The specific learning disabilities
 - 4.1 Inadequate learning
 - 4.2 Deficient learning results
 - 4.3 Deficient actualization of learning
 - 4.4 Synthesis
5. Children with specific learning disabilities as a “homogeneous” group
6. Contemporary teaching support for the child with Specific learning disabilities
7. Sources

Author’s English summary

THE PSYCHIC LIFE OF THE CHILD WITH SPECIFIC LEARNING DISABILITIES

M. C. H. Sonnekus

1. Introductory orientation
2. The actualization of the psychic life: clarification of concepts and statement of the problem
 - 2.1 What is the meaning of the psychic life?
 - 2.2 How is the psychic life actualized?
3. How is the psychic life of the child with specific learning difficulties actualized?
 - 3.1 Some modes of actualization in the world relation of the child with specific learning disabilities
 - 3.2 The course of learning of the child with specific learning Disabilities
4. Some implications of a restrained actualization of the psychic life and recommendations
5. Recommended readings

Author’s English synopsis