CHAPTER 1. ORDERING (ARRANGING) LEARNING MATERIAL FOR THE LESSON SITUATION

- 1.1 INTRODUCTION
- 1.2 EARLIER AND EXISTING PRINCIPLES OF ORDERING
 - 1.2.1 Principles of ordering with a point of departure in a particular idea of forming
 - a) Formal forming as point of departure
 - b) Material forming
 - c) Categorical forming
 - Task of the teacher*
 - The unique nature and structure of the subject matter*
 - Reducing the learning content*
- 1,2,2 Principles of ordering emanating from findings of the psychology of becoming
- 1.3 PROBLEMS REGARDING ORDERING LEARNING MATERIAL ARISING FROM EXISTING PRACTICE
- 1.4 SOME REMARKS ABOUT THE LESSON STRUCTURE
- 1.5 SUMMARY

CHAPTER 2. THE LESSON STRUCTURE AND THE PLACE OF THE PRINCIPLES OF ORDERING WITHIN IT

- 2.1 INTRODUCTION
- 2.2 THE LESSON SITUATION AS FORMAL TEACHING SITUATION IN DIDACTIC PERSPECTIVE
- 2.3 THE ESSENCES OF THE LESSON STRUCTURE\
 - 2.3.1 The meaning of the word “structure”
 - 2.3.2 The concept “being-structure”
 - 2.3.3 Disclosing the being-structure in a lesson situation
- 2.4 THE SENSE OF THE BEING-STRUCTURE IN THE LESSON SITUATION
- 2.5 PRINCIPLES OF ORDERING THE LEARNING MATERIAL AS PART-MOMENT OF THE PLANNING STRUCTURE
- 2.6 SUMMARIZED THOUGHTS ABOUT THE CONCEPT “FORMAL DIDACTIC SITUATION”

CHAPTER 3. A THEORETICAL PENETARATION OF SOME PRINCIPLES OF ORDERING (ARRANGING) LEARNING MATERIAL

3.1 INTRODUCTION

3.2 LEARNING MATERIAL

3.2.1 The place and value of learning material

3.2.2 The sense of learning content

3.2.3 Formative content

3.2.4 Reducing the learning content

3.2.5 Learning content and the syllabus

a) The concept syllabus

b) Syllabus compilation

3.3 PRINCIPLES OF ORDERING LEARNING MATERIAL

3.3.1 The principle of core learning material and supplementary Programs

3.3.2 Principles with the life world of the child as point of departure

a) Symbiotic principle of ordering

b) Principle of local lore

c) Principle of integration

3.3.3 The concentric principle

3.3.4 The linear principle

3.3.5 The punctual (divergent) principle

3.3.6 The chronological principle

3.4 THE CHOICE OF A PRINCIPLE OF ORDERING

3.4.1 The meaning of the didactic principle

3.4.2 The relationship between ground form, methodological principle and form of ordering

a) Ground form and learning content

b) Form of ordering and methodology

CHAPTER 4. THE UNIQUE NATURE OF PHYSICS IN CHOOSING AND IMPLEMENTING PRINCIPLES OF ORDERING

4.1 THE UNIQUE NATURE AND STRUCTURE OF PHYSICS

4.1.1 Field of study

4.1.2 Its language

4.1.3 Its validity

4.1.4 Its typical methods

4.1.5 Summary

4.2 EXAMPLES ILLUSTRATING THE IMPLEMENTATION OF CERTAIN

PRINCIPLES

4.2.1 Introduction

4.2.2 Principle of ordering: core learning material

Theme: The dualistic character of light

4.2.3 Principle of ordering: symbiotic

Theme: Wave movement – longitudinal and transversal types of waves

4.2.4 Principle of ordering: concentric

Theme: Wave movement – longitudinal and transversal types of waves

4.2.5 Principle of ordering: linear

Theme: Wave movement – longitudinal and transversal types of waves

4.2.6 Principle of ordering: punctual

Theme: The phenomenon of wave interference (light and sound waves)

4.2.7 Principle of ordering: chronological

Theme: The dualistic character of light
